

Last Rites Held For Bliss Hinkle, Local Educator

Was Daughter of Pioneer
Truckee Family, Noted
As Historian

Mrs. Bliss McGlashen Hinkle, 53, a native of Truckee and member of a pioneer local family, died Friday in the family home at San Francisco following a long illness. Private funeral services were held in San Francisco and friends were urged not to bring flowers but to subscribe to the American Cancer Research Foundation.

The deceased was the wife of Dr. George Hinkle and the two only recently completed their new book, Sierra Nevada Lakes, a non-fiction best seller. Their first joint work was a revision of The History of the Donner Party, written by Mrs. Hinkle's father, the late C. F. McGlashen, pioneer Truckee historian and editor.

In recent years Mrs. Hinkle served as principal of the Tahoe branch of the Placer Union High School and hundreds of graduates of that school will grieve at losing a staunch friend and teacher. She had taught at the school for 20 years.

A native of Truckee, Mrs. Hinkle was born June 6, 1896. She received her early education here and later attended the University of California. She later taught at Truckee, Weed, Potter Valley and Elk Grove before going to Tahoe. She was accredited in 23 subjects and taught as many as nine each day.

She was president of the American Association of University Women at Tahoe and played an important part in the community civil and social welfare.

The deceased is survived by her husband, a son, Richard, two daughters, Mrs. Sue Enfield and Mrs. Marilyn Meyers, and five grandchildren. Surviving sisters are Mrs. Nettie Hennessey, Mrs. June Kelley and Mrs. Lotus Gregory, all of San Francisco; Mrs. Elizabeth Gilmore and Mrs. Ximena Howard of Berkeley.

LIONS GIVE $45 TO POLIO DRIVE AT WEEK'S MEET

The club enjoyed a program of sound pictures on Alaska Big Game and a wrestling film. Both were realistic and highly entertaining. The films were shown by W. A. Willis, public relations official with the Standard Oil Company at Sacramento. Robert Gifford was program chairman and B. W. Reynolds presided.

Pet Doe Killed At Flycasters Club; Left Twin Fawns

Every deer hunting season seems to bring its minor tragedies.

One of these was reported last week by Mrs. Maude Gaffield of the Flycasters Club.

Since last year, a doe has been coming to the club's kitchen door each day for a handful of table scraps, always supplied by Mrs. Gaffield. Then a few days ago, the doe took courage and brought her twin fawns up to the house to make them acquainted with her friendly neighbor.

The hunting season opened and among the first casualties was the deer mother.

Last season Mrs. Gaffield was shot in the arm by a careless hunter.

MRS. DENEVILLE DIES SUDDENLY AT RIVER HOME

Mrs. Hilda Deneville, 74, who for many years has spent her summers at Deneville, her Truckee River home five miles south of here, died there yesterday following a heart attack. Friends believe that the forest fire which swept close to her home Monday may have induced the attack.

N. F. Dolley, of the Truckee Colonial Mortuary, who took charge of the body, said he was communicating with relatives in Los Angeles.

Elderly Couple Hurt In Auto Accident

An elderly San Francisco couple, Carl A. Jensen, 71, and Ruth Baker, 64, suffered serious injuries yesterday afternoon when their car got out of control on a curve a mile and a half west of the Nevada state line, crashed into a bank and overturned. They were taken to a Reno hospital by the Truckee Ambulance. Constable N. F. Dolley said he believed they were traveling to Reno to get married when the mishap occurred. Patrolman William Gautsche investigated.

V. T. State Completes Plants Of Over Million Fish Here

Trout to be Supplemented By Plantings From Lake Hatcheries

The Bear River Fish Planting Base, operated by the state division of fish and game, closes this week after two months of fish planting operations that included the planting of 1,181,653 fingerling trout in 85 lakes and 58 streams in Nevada, Placer and Sierra Counties.

The 825,979 rainbow trout, weighing a total of 4,509 pounds, and 355,674 eastern brook weighing 2,508 pounds were planted in that area by the state crew composed of W. S. Frazier, Vernon King, Neil Nyberg and E. H. Robinson under the supervision of Andy Weaver.

The trout were reared at the state owned Mt. Shasta Hatchery and transported to the Bear River base in large cans and tank trucks equipped with special units to keep the young trout alive throughout the 12 hour trip. The size of the fish has ranged from two to four inches.

Below is the number of fish and weight planted in each of the three counties:

Nevada County: 481,673 rainbow (2,646 pounds); 253,022 eastern brook (1,515 pounds).

Placer County: 280,132 rainbow (1,512 pounds); 38,922 eastern brook (240 pounds).

Sierra County: 64,174 rainbow (353 pounds); 63,730 eastern brook (291 pounds).

Allan F. Pollitt, assistant supervisor of fish hatcheries of District 3, of Tahoe states that additional sizeable plants are made in the three counties from Lake Tahoe, Mt. Tallac, Yuba River and Feather River hatcheries.

Sun Beams

Hunters themselves are going to have to take drastic steps if they hope to save the game and forests in the mountains. Like the proverbial bad apple in the barrel, the hunters are permitting one out of 100 to spoil the sport for everyone. Naturally, most hunters are sportsmen and would not more think of killing an illegal deer or permitting carelessness with fires than they would of robbing a bank. Occasionally, however, up pops a fellow who shoots at everything that moves, doesn't give a hoot about starting fires and takes advantage of every opportunity to violate the law. It's this menace that must be eliminated if hunting is to continue for the sportsmen. It is human nature, perhaps, for a sportsman to believe that another hunter would never, through rank carelessness or intent, start a forest fire or shoot an illegal deer. He likes to judge others by himself and there he is making a big mistake which may eventually wipe out the sport of hunting entirely. The real sportsman is going to have to tighten down and be an informer—a self-appointed warden. He will report to officials any infraction which comes to his attention and the courts will continue to demand full penalties, if we are to continue enjoying our own natural resources and hunt and fish. And this action cannot be long delayed. Some thing must be done soon or it will be too late.

SERVICE CLUBS TO MEET TOGETHER TO HEAR SPEAKER

Truckee Food Mart Is Open, Has New Manager

The delicatessen near the Donner Theater, which has been closed for the past three weeks, was reopened yesterday under complete new management with Arthur L. Sears of Oakland in charge.

He is enlarging the store by extending shelves toward the rear. It has been all renovated and redecorated.

Sears will prepare his own delicatessen foods, with a bake shop in the rear of the establishment. No fresh vegetables or fruit will be handled. The new manager is a former sergeant with the field artillery in the South Pacific. He has a wife and two children who are now living Oakland.

Details Of State Aid To Hospital Received Here

Experts To Give Advice On Keeping Costs At Minimum

A letter from Gordon R. Cummings, chief of the bureau of hospitals of the state department of public health, this week confirmed a telegram from Dr. Wilton L. Halverson, department director, assuring the Tahoe Forest Hospital District of adequate funds to provide the new hospital here next year.

The letter, received by Charles R. Heller, president of the local board, said in part:

"Favorable action on your application resulted when your area was compared with other areas from which applications were received, on the basis of criteria contained in the statement of policy of the advisory hospital council. You will note from this statement that the advisory hospital council feels keenly its responsibility to provide the maximum number of facilities throughout the state for the minimum cost commensurate with good construction and standards.

"The staff of this department has been directed to work closely with all local communities for the purpose of insuring that the minimum expenditure will be made in each project.

"In its action of September 20 the advisory council recommended that a maximum allocation of $85,083 in federal funds, and a like amount in state funds be allocated to your project."

The local hospital board plans to meet tomorrow night to go over plans and direct communications to the state assuring them of their desire to proceed as planned.

With the $150,000 bond issue approved by local voters there will be $320,166 available for the work next year, Heller said.

TAX RATE CUT OF NINE CENTS IN THIS COUNTY

Nevada County is one of 45 in California which shows a decrease in its county tax rate for general purposes adopted for 1949-50, the California Taxpayers' Association reported. Drop in the county general purpose rate inside municipalities is nine cents when 1949-50 is compared with 1948-49.

Five counties in the state showed no change and eight reported an increase in tax rate for general county purposes for 1949-50 as compared with 1948-49.

The county-wide rate for 1949-50 for general purposes is $1.97, compared with a rate of $2.06 for 1948-49 in Nevada County.

The final county tax rate is the result of a number of increases and decreases in the parts of the rate for the different county funds, the taxpayers' association said. Changes within the general purposes rate in the county were as follows:

Name of fund:	1948-49	1949-50
General fund	$1.41	$1.38
Salary fund	.38	.34
Jr. College Tuition	.19	.14
Veterans buildings	.08	.11
Total inside	$2.06	$1.97

Forest Fires In This District Are Under Control

Forest Crews, Volunteers Corral Three Blazes In Last Week

Three forest fires, which kept hundreds of fire fighters busy since last Friday, Tuesday afternoon were reported under control although patrols were being maintained to prevent a recurrence.

The most spectacular and damaging blaze started on Monday morning on Bald Mountain, two miles south of Truckee. Fanned by a wind which at times reached a velocity of 40 miles an hour, the fire swept over 1100 acres of heavily wooded land and was checked Monday night by a shift in the east wind on Donner Ridge near where the Stanford blaze which started Friday was still smoldering.

At times there were upwards of 600 men on the fire lines but the flames traveled at a speed which defied all efforts to check it. Flames were clearly visible from Truckee in many areas.

Toward Truckee

When the fire originated the wind was blowing directly toward Truckee and Fire Chief N. F. Dolley asked the Reno fire department to lend assistance in case the situation grew worse. Reno sent over three big pieces of equipment and stood by through Monday, a gesture highly praised by local residents and officials.

The Truckee-Tahoe City highway was closed for three hours when the fire leaped the Truckee River at Robber's Roost, two miles south of the Wye west of Truckee. Homes in that area were threatened but the fire went with such speed before the wind that it failed to spread on the flanks.

Car Burns

The only material loss, aside from the timber, was a car owned by "Dutch" Paton, Truckee resident, who was among the first to answer the call for volunteers. He parked his car near Bald Mountain and when he returned it was a mass of charred wreckage. A few fire fighters suffered minor injuries but no one was seriously hurt.

The fighting was directed by Forest Supervisor Guerdon Ellis of Nevada City, Ranger E. E. Boehm of the Truckee district and Fire Control Officer William Curran of Truckee, with other officials being flown in from the Sequoia, El Dorado and Stanislaus National Forests to assist.

Following a flight over the area Tuesday afternoon, Ellis reported the fire under control at three o'clock. The sudden shift in the wind Monday night which sent the fire back over its own destructive path, kept it from the Southern Pacific's snow sheds and other installations.

Reports Exaggerated
Radio reports that the fire was causing panic in Truckee and that businesses were closing and preparing to evacuate, were unfounded, although had the wind changed earlier, a grave threat existed. As it was, many local residents spent a sleepless night watching the rise and fall of the flames on the east slope of Donner Ridge.

Credit was given many local concerns and individuals including Supervisor H. G. Loehr, who sent his equipment and crews into the battle; W. M. Englehart, whose two new trucks were kept busy hauling men to and from the fire and the local officers, Constable Dolley, Deputies Sheriff Foster Wilson and Roy Waters who recruited fire fighters and assisted in sending them to the required locations. Fred Morris, operating the Truckee Sanitary District tractor, was among the first to arrive to fight the conflagration.

Fire at Stanford

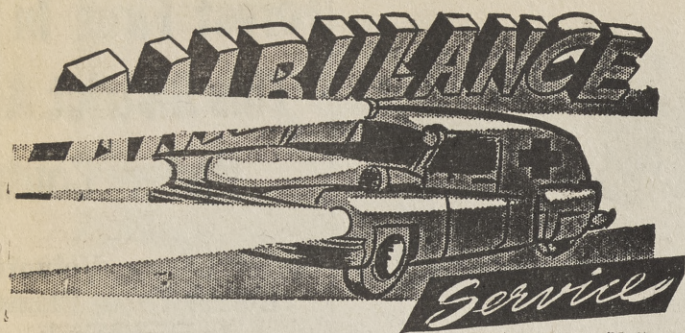

The fire Friday at Stanford, seven miles west of here, covered an area of 160 acres before it was brought under control by 350 men, including 55 San Quentin prisoners. These men were still in camp when the Bald Mountain fire took off and were augmented by nearly that many more from Plumas County.

Hirschdale Fire

Nine acres along Highway 40 just east of Hirschdale required 60 men to bring under control. Six telephone poles were destroyed. This fire, which occurred last Thursday night, was believed to have started from a cigarette carelessly tossed from a car. The burned area skirts the old burn left by the big Boca fire of two years ago.

Ellis said the Bald Mountain fire was definitely caused by a hunter's warming fire. He added that Ranger Boehm was expected to question two suspects in the near future.

September 23, Bliss Hinkle passed away. Her last note to me, only a few weeks ago, told of her weakness and inability to even answer the phone or receive visitors. She fought a brave fight and knew for a long time the terrible odds she faced. Few there will ever be who will leave behind such a record of devotion to duty as her 20 years of teaching established and no other teacher in the entire Truckee-Tahoe district will ever again be called upon to teach, as she was, as many as nine subjects a day. She was accredited in 23 subjects and while many believed her outstanding as a teacher of English, her major interest was world history. During her life, she maintained world-wide contacts with friends and believed in, and taught her students, freedom and tolerance. Her loss will be felt deeply in this mountain district, where she made herself a part of its social and civic life. Her brilliance was reflected in the pages of the book Sierra Nevada Lakes which she authored with her husband, Dr. George Hinkle, shortly before her passing. Her memory will long be cherished not only by a host of loving friends but also by hundreds of her pupils who oft resented the high scholastic standards she demanded but realized she was a brilliant instructor whose rigid training in study habits proved invaluable later in maintaining standards for college requirements and in life.

Am finishing this on Monday evening at the end of a day of worry and fear. The fire which has raged out of control all day since 9:33 this morning when it was first reported in the Mt. Pluto district by the Martis lookout has left hearts heavy and spirits low around the lake region. We who live in this mountain wonderland love every bush and tree on our hillsides and valleys. It is nothing short of criminal to have them wantonly destroyed by the carelessness of men. Cause of the fire is now believed to have been an unattended campfire, since campers are known to have been in that area. Fear gripped those living along the Truckee River, who were packed and ready to evacuate their homes at a moment's notice. Luckily, the fire swept through an area where no homes were located. Nothing is as terrible or completely destructive as fire and seldom do we realize its tragic consequences until it strikes close to home. The rules of safety in the forest are so few and simple... what a pity the negligent few must create such heartache for so many.

Will ring off for the week. Good luck, good health and, to those of you who carry a gun, as ever, Swanee.

During the summer, although no meetings were held, the organization was by no means inactive, sponsoring the Well Baby Clinic which proved a huge success, and the mobile chest x-ray unit which visited Kings Beach on August 31. Virginia Mason, chairman of the health committee, being unable to attend the meeting sent in a complete report on these activities which was read from the chair.

After the business meeting, Charles Chubb, school principal, was introduced as speaker of the evening. Giving a brief resume of his plans for the school, he explained his proposed method of grading pupils in their school work. A social hour followed with members of the North Tahoe Women's Club acting as co-hostesses.

Easier dish washing... you'll find the secret in petroleum

It may seem like a long trip to your dishpan, but a good share of the "soapless soaps" you use started deep in the earth in an oil well.

These new cleaners, called detergents, actually make water "wetter"... attract dirt and grease almost like a magnet. They make dishes sparkle, work well with all fabrics in hard or soft water, clean cars, and they have many other home and industrial uses.

The practical means of making detergents from oil came out of Standard of California research... by risking substantial sums for experimentation and development. The results: new products to make your work easier, new manufacturing and selling jobs, a company better able to serve you and all the West.

MONDAY THRU FRIDAY—10:15 P.M.
KOLO—920 ON YOUR DIAL

A plaque was unveiled a few days ago on a playing field at Notre Dame, on the spot where two young football stars practiced a new gridiron tactic many years ago. The new tactic was the forward pass. The two stars were Knute Rockne and Gus Dorais.

A lot of old-timers were on hand to witness the unveiling, and among them was Gus Dorais, the oldest old-timer of them all. "Gus," asked a sports writer, "who of Rockne's greats who's missing now would you like to see here?"

Gus smiled a little sadly. "George Gipp," he replied, and the memories of the old-timers went back three decades, to the season of 1920, and they could almost hear a roar from the grandstands as thousands of Notre Dame fans shouted: "One for the Gipper!"

George Gipp was the greatest football player ever turned out at South Bend. Gipp could pass and he could run, and his punts and place-kicks were a joy to behold. There wasn't anything that George Gipp couldn't do on the football field. And what's more, as a football player, George Gipp never once made a mistake.

But strange enough, George Gipp played football against his will. He was a wild sort of youngster, and a great individualist. He hated authority, and the strict school discipline, combined with the rigors of gridiron training under Rockne were too much for him to take. He was always in hot water with the school officials.

Rockne squared him time after time, though Gipp made life miserable for his coach. Every time Gipp was on the verge of expulsion, Rockne managed to get him a new pardon. When Gipp broke training rules and went off on wild escapades, Rockne suffered, because he knew it was a bad example to the other players. But Rockne took it because George Gipp was a genius on the football field.

And then, in Gipp's final year at college, with the last game of the season, against Northwestern, coming up, George Gipp took sick. Lying in the hospital bed, a sudden feeling of remorse overcame him... remorse for all the trouble he had caused Knute Rockne and the school. Gipp decided he was going to play that afternoon against Northwestern.

Gipp sneaked out of the infirmary and arrived at the train just before it pulled out. He convinced Rockne that the doctors had given him permission to play in the game. However, Rockne wasn't entirely persuaded, and when the game started Gipp was sitting on the bench, wrapped in blankets. For three quarters the crowd chanted his name, and with the constant pleading of Gipp himself Rockne finally put him in the backfield.

That afternoon George Gipp played the greatest game of his career, but when he got back to South Bend he was sicker than ever. They put him to bed... a bed he never left. Rockne was at his bedside and just before he died, Gipp whispered, "Rock, sometimes when the odds are against us, ask a Notre Dame team to win for me. Ask them to win one for the Gipper."

The years have passed, but George Gipp is still a living memory to Notre Dame. That's why Gus Dorais thought of the Gipper, and that why, when the plaque was unveiled a few days ago, old-timers' memories glowed with the battle cry that had cheered on many a Notre Dame team, the battle cry of: "Win one for the Gipper!"

Lodge Thursday, Sept. 29, with Betty Horak, Eve Donadio, Dorothy Barber, Wanda Misener, Rita Vail, Peg Travis, Madylon Walton and ourselves functioning in the capacity of hostesses. The expectant mamas (Barbara Zorich, Betty Aro and Margaret Merrill) have been informed of the "stork dance" so that the excitement will not be too great for them. Paper booties are being fashioned under the fingers of the various hostesses and the "committee meetings" of the hostesses are as much fun as we hope the party will be.

The meeting of the Winter Sports Committee, and the subsequent meeting of the operators of Donner Summit Lodge, Soda Springs Hotel and Beacon Hill Lodge brought forth a couple of interesting facts that should be reported. One was an expressed determination on the part of the various businessmen to do something under a unified program, even the forming of a Donner Trail Chamber of Commerce was talked of. A package deal combining ski tow fees with lodging rates is being bandied about.

Operatic Tenor George Stinson, a guest of Jim Sherritt's, recently honored the local Rotary Club with his inspiring voice and we wouldn't have missed it for anything. We've heard George sing previously but every time we hear him we are further awed at the gift given this Fair Oaks state highway patrolman. George, who gives a talk on Safety on the Highways along with his concert, is an inspiration and we regret that Truckee hasn't a place large enough to accommodate all the people in the area who should take advantage of the gift he so willingly gives. Incidentally, the day after the concert George caught the limit of rainbow trout which was ample reward, he stated, for the 200 miles driven to sing to the mountain people.

The PG&E crews still dominate the various hostilities from Emigrant Gap to the Summit and we hear that as soon as the first rains or snow fall the brush burning crews will take over, which means that the job cannot be too far from finished. The forest fires that are raging in our country at the present time are begging to be quenched by some kind of moisture so we look at the cloudy skies and wonder if it is smoke that is obscuring the sun or whether the darkness could be forecasters of some kind of relief.

Doris and Brant Chaplin, new owners at Rainbow Tavern, report a fine business and due to the fact that they haven't as yet acquired the dark rings usually found under the eyes of various hotel owners in the area, we see that they are getting a kick out of their new acquisition. We talked with Jeannie Buttlar on Sunday and find that Big Bend Inn has also enjoyed a wonderful summer. Donner Summit Lodge, Soda Springs Hotel and Beacon Hill are lined up with cars which is indication of fine business. That dull season which used to come each year, enabling the various operators to get away from it all, hasn't materialized. So a bunch of tired, hard working people fast approach the winter season without much rest.

Eula Sherritt returns to her home after a sojourn in a Reno hospital. Historic old Emigrant Gap Hotel has recently been sold to Robinson-Caruso (K. D. Robinson of Auburn and John Caruso of Colfax) and will be managed by Bob Mattheson, formerly at Rainbow Tavern. The Parley Merrills return from Winemucca where they spent a few days vacation. Tony and Eve

Leave Lake Forest—

The O. I. Lockwoods have closed their Lake Forest summer home and returned to Santa Monica for the winter.

Camping Out—

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Greene of Pasadena recently enjoyed a camping out at Lake Tahoe with their two grandsons. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cannon, parents of the boys, also of Pasadena, also enjoyed a vacation at the lake.

Vacation at Sunnyside—

Mrs. Mary B. Trefall and Mrs. Maris Franz of Los Angeles were recent vacationers in the Sunnyside district.

Donadio back from Lodi where Eve went to visit her folks and Tony went to help open football season.

Hammers ring and blasting splits our ear drums. The Miseners add a new breakfast room to their Swiss type chalet cottage. Two or three new roofs peak at us from between the pines that make a background for Pratt's Garage. The Snowtel at Kingsvale is taking a miraculously fast appearance of completion. Bud Walton's new Ski Ranch building is looming up from its foundation while across the street from Kiski Lodge the Chappell's place is emerging from the cut out in the road. The blasting which we said was ear splitting is also heart warming for it means that the double chair lift on the Soda Springs Ski Hill is fast nearing completion. Clem Hayes, the engineer, brought his family from the middle west to be near as he labors to finish before the snow flies.

We see little Judd, who used to be a Soda Springs Hotel fixture, back on the job at the hotel. Max Williamson pushes a handful of tags into the mail drop—140 validations of deer kills.

Think the best looking buck we saw so far was on the back of a horse being led by Herb Coleman of Kingsvale Park, in from the Lola Montez country. Ruby Allen, our mountain Diana, fearlessly took a camping trip by herself in the Montez country and got her. That Allen woman simply slays us! We, who take a flashlight to walk from the house to the car, let our mouth hang open as red-headed Ruby heads for the woods with a pack on her back and her rifle under her arm, unaccompanied, and calmly says, "Don't worry about me and expect me when you see me!"

My Place In the Sun

by DOUG BARRETT

Mary Zunino lived up to her promise to herself on her birthday (Sept. 27) by getting a buck and a mess of trout. "I Love You Truly" and other melodies of the heart will be played for justweds at the recently completed wedding chapel in the Mapes Hotel at Reno on an old-fashioned organ, purchased from Bill Porter's Antique Shop. One of the last sales Bill made before decamping for winter quarters at Banning. The Truckee Mountaineers scored 148 runs in the Placer-Nevada League season topped only by Wolf and Royer with 172 and Colfax with 151. Mountaineer Manager Larry Baxter and Coach John Rau weighing the chances of the Stanford Indians to upset Michigan Sunday. And of the Sacramento Solons to cop the PCL playoffs. Kjell Rustad and Jim Easton of Tahoe in a waitful attitude at the California corner. Alex Robertson and Claire Ellert in earnest conversation in front of the post office. Tom Dolley and Topsy Verner subbing at the Merc. While Jean Pace goes to Reno for an operation and Tony goes along to sweat it out. We're all rooting for a quick comeback, Jean. The freeway opened from the east end to the Church Street intersection yesterday morning. With the detour just outside my bedroom window. Yes, we've moved again. And by last night traffic was trickling out the west end. Although the white line and most of the travelers still round the corner.

DANNY SHEEHAN CREDITED WITH HALTING BAD FIRE

LAKE FOREST—A fire of unknown origin was discovered on Saturday morning by Danny Sheehan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sheehan of Lake Forest. The boy, with his brothers, was playing when he saw the smoke and ran into the house to tell his mother. She and her guest, Mrs. Lee Dell of Los Angeles, ran to the spot where the blaze was just getting started in logs and grass. She sent the boys for help, phoned the fire department and then used shovels and rakes to confine the fire in the face of a rising wind. The highway crew water truck, working on the road between Tahoe City and Dollar Hill, finally extinguished the potentially dangerous blaze.

Prussos Leave Lake—

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Prusso have left their Carnelian Bay summer home to spend the winter at their new home in San Leandro. Several members of their family now live in that city.

Woodlanders Visit—

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huston Jr. of Woodland have been enjoying a vacation at the home of Mrs. Isabella Ray in Timberland Tract. Steve Bouton of Woodland has also been a recent Tahoe visitor.

County Officials Accept Squaw Valley Road On Visit to Tahoe Area

TAHOE CITY—Harry Johnson of Tahoe City, secretary of the Placer County planning commission, accompanied Supervisors Paoli, Paolini and Boyington and Road Commissioner Fred Ervast on a tour of Squaw Valley Resort last Friday. After spending several hours inspecting the new resort, they gave the project their wholehearted approval, accepting as county road the 2½ mile road from Highway 89 to the resort. The 30-foot wide stretch is now undergoing its second oiling and will receive a third coat before snowfall.

Luncheon was served at Homewood Resort and dinner at the Brockway Hotel. During the

Shower for New Bride At Pollitt Home

TAHOE CITY—On Friday evening a surprise shower was given at the Allan Pollitt home at the Tahoe Fish Hatchery by the Misses Blodwyn Tiffie and Myra Lee Pollitt honoring newlywed Mrs. Carolyn Henrikson of Tahoe Park. Following games and the unwrapping of gifts, the hostesses served cake and ice cream with punch and coffee.

Capitol Woman Bags Biggest Buck of Year

Slim Ellert, operator of the Truckee Sport Shop, who has validated scores of deer tags this season for hunters, reports that the biggest deer he has seen killed in this area was one brought in by Mrs. Clarice Ogle of Sacramento.
The deer was a three-pointer which dressed 175 pounds. Mrs. Ogle shot the animal while hunting with her husband, Charles Ogle, Sacramento County deputy sheriff, near Donner Lake last Thursday morning.

SOLDIERS HURT
Sgt. Russell Bruce Schultz, 21, and David Bellmyer, 42, both of McClelland Field, had minor injuries when a car they were driving hit a guard rail near Hirschdale Saturday night. Schultz told Patrolman William Gautsche that an approaching car forced him off the highway on a curve.

Tarzan

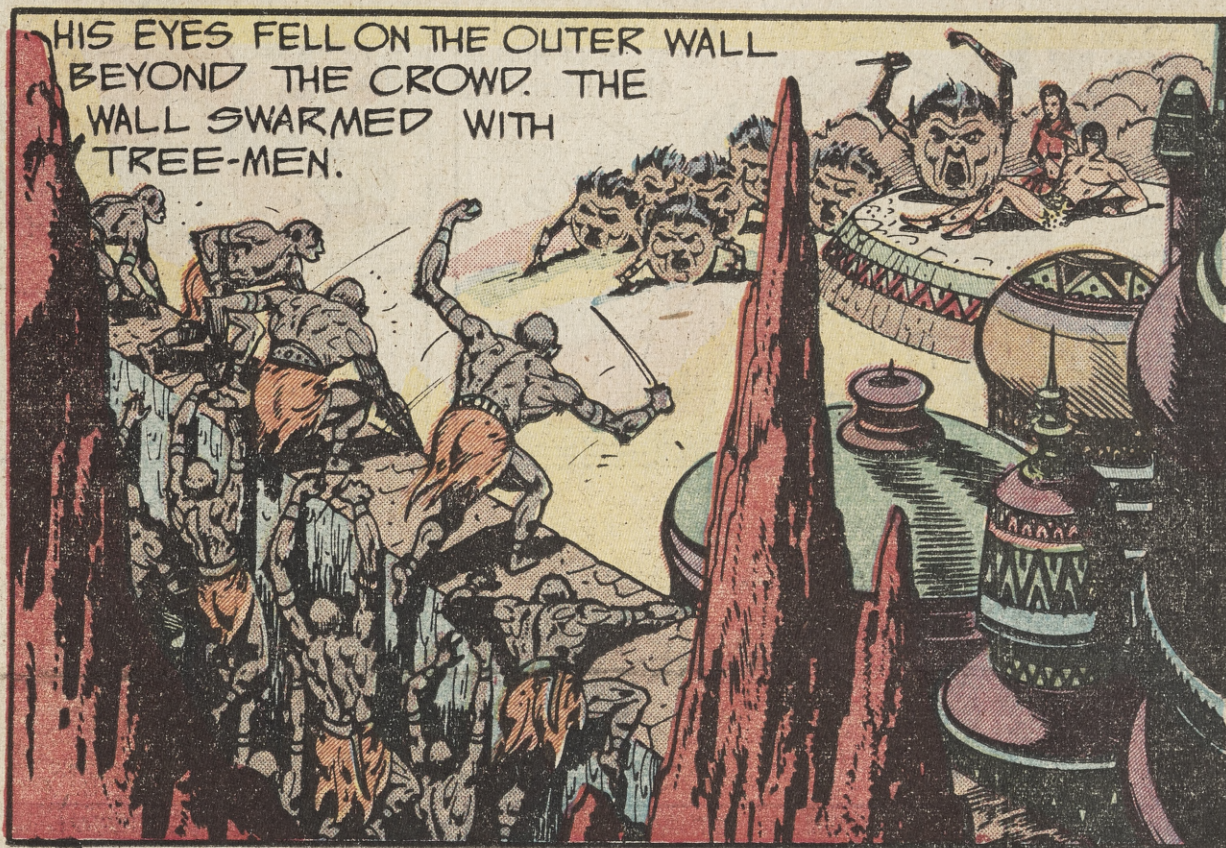

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

CHAINED SECURELY TO THE PLATFORM,
THE APE-MAN IS HELPLESS...

DETERMINED TO BREAK
TARZAN'S STOICAL CALM, GUXA PROLONGED THE MOMENT OF THE DEATH
BLOW. SUDDENLY
HE TURNED-----

HIS EYES FELL ON THE OUTER WALL
BEYOND THE CROWD. THE WALL SWARMED WITH TREE-MEN.

ON THE WALL, WOLO,
THE TREE-MAN, DIRECTED A PAIR OF HIS FOLLOWERS TO
UNBAR THE GATE.

AS GUXA'S KNIFE DESCENDED,
HIS ARMS WERE SUDDENLY
GRIPPED BY POWERFUL HANDS. FROM THE APE-MAN'S LIPS CAME THE FIERCE,
CHALLENGING CRY OF THE GREAT
APES

NADEE HAD ALSO SEEN THE TREE-
MEN. A SINGLE ROUND CARRIED HER ACROSS TO TARZAN TO SLASH THE APE-MAN'S BONDS.
